

I pay for XM radio service and I should not be restricted on what information I receive. There are times when regular broadcast radio is simply unavailable and this valuable information would be available via XM radio. In a competitive market the market place will determine what should be offered. Leave XM radio alone!